LOGO USAGE

Logos and visual identity carry extraordinary weight. In every environment, people instinctively respond to symbols long before they engage with written language. Our logo is the face of our company: the primary visual expression through which we are recognized. Because of this, it must be used with care, precision, and unwavering consistency.

Our logo is crafted to communicate a strong, confident, and positive representation of who we are. It consists of two essential components: the monogram and the wordmark. The monogram—our distinctive symbol—and the wordmark function as a unified system, each reinforcing the other. When used correctly, they form a clear and memorable signature for our brand.

THE MONOGRAM

We use our monogram both as a standalone brand element and as an integral part of the full logo. This dual application strengthens its role as a clear and distinctive symbol of our identity.

The monogram serves as the reduced form of our logo in limited or compact spaces. Whenever possible, it should appear in Midnight Navy—our primary brand color—as the preferred expression. For situations where Midnight Navy is not suitable, such as on dark backgrounds, the Platinum Gray or white versions may be used as appropriate.

THE WORDMARK

We prefer to use our wordmark with monogram included. However, some cases will steer towards the sole use of the wordmark. For example, this may happen when the monogram is used elsewhere in the layout. Here are four ways of using our wordmark.

1. Midnight Navy workmark on a white background is the preferred option.
2. Soft Gold and Platinum Gray workmark on a Midnight Navy background is to be used when option one is not working out.
3. White wordmark on a black background. Whenever incorporating Midnight Navy is not an option, one should always fall back on a white version of the wordmark on a black background.
4. In special circumstances, the tricolored logo on a white or light colored background may be used.

CLEAR SPACE

The gray area around the logo defines the minimum space that must be left between the logo and any other graphic elements such as text, illustrations, and borders. This is to ensure that the logo retains a strong presence wherever it appears.

The “x” measurements in this diagram are used to indicate equal spaces around the height/width of the logo.

MINIMUM SIZE

Establishing a minimum size ensures that the impact and legibility of the logo are not compromised in the application. Due to higher resolution available in print vs that of screen-based media (300dpi vs 72dpi respectively), we are able to reproduce the logo at a fractionally smaller size in print without any graphic deterioration.

Digital

To ensure legibility and impact, the (Philip David Capital Management) logo should never be smaller than 150px in any digital communication.

Print

To ensure legibility and impact, the (Philip David Capital Management) logo should never be smaller than 52mm in any print communication.
